

THIS IS THE WORLD
THAT THE RICH HAVE PLANNED FOR YOU

THEY ARE NOT ASKING YOU. THEY ARE TELLING YOU.

They tell you that they need it to reduce crime. Or to protect you. Or to fight terrorism. But one thing's for sure, you don't need to be afraid if you're not doing anything wrong, right? Right. But the thing is, from their perspective you ARE doing something wrong, and you could do a lot more.

You're organizing your life in a way that they might not like. You're stealing from work. You're speeding. You're cheating on a test. You're calling in sick. You're tagging the local Starbucks. You're slashing the tires on some yuppie's Hummer. You're taking the streets at a protest. You're standing up for yourself and others. You're resisting their plan to control our lives.

Maybe you organized a raid to free slaves. Or an illegal boycott on lettuce. Maybe you refused to fight an imperialist war. Or you housed refugees or helped migrants. Maybe you performed illegal abortions. Or planted a bomb at IBM to protest Apartheid. Maybe you burned down a ski resort. Maybe you broke the law because rich people make laws and you're not rich.

Don't think for a second that they didn't have you in mind when they put those cameras in. They're watching you because you're a threat to the power and privilege of the people who run things. And those cameras give them so much more power than they ever had before. You can make revolution, and that's bad for rich and powerful people. That's why they're watching you.
